Girl, 6, Dies Of Leukemia

Services for a 6-year-old leukemia victim were conducted Saturday at Halverson-Leavell mortuary chapel, with burial following at Pacific Crest cemetery.

Dead is Susan Lydia Andersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Andersen of 1028 Kornblum, Torrance. The girl had been ill for one year and was due for an operation the following day.

She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Linda, 9, and Sydney, 5, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McKillican of Terra Bella, California, Mrs. Elna Faubion of Los Angeles and Rex Price of Los Angeles.

IF ANY of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.—James 1:5.

'Littlest Angel' Will Play In Santa Land

Under the auspices of the Retail Merchant association, ACCENT: theatre! of Torrance will present three performances of "The Littlest Angel," in El Prado Park, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, December 19, 20, and 21, as part of the city-wide community Christmas celebration.

Playing the part of the "Littlest Angel" is Bobby Renfrow, the son of Mrs. Madeleine Renfrow. The Renfrow family have recently come to Torrance from New York City, where Bobby was a Conover model and appeared in such television shows as "I Remember Mama," the Arlene Francis "Home Show," the Nancy Craig show, and "General Electric Theatre."

Seraphim and Cherubim will be represented by Joan and Lynn Renfrow, Carol Foss, Pamela Boswell, and Dierdre, and Denny Dyer.

The production is under the direction of Noralee Benedict. Mrs. Louis Dyer will be the accompanist.

Story Origin
"The Little Angel" was born in a script originally written for a radio program called "Manhattan at Midnight." In the short years since its birth, the story has grown to be regarded as a childhood classic and so beloved by adults, that it is told every Christmas on the radio, has been made into a record album by Loretta Young, and has been published as a book for children.

Charles Tazewell's story is about a little boy who finds himself an angel. His only problem is that he does not feel at all like an angel, he still feels like a little boy.

He has difficulty with the wings, which he forgets to move when he tries to fly, causing him to tumble "head over heels"; and with the choir duties, because he always sings loudly and enthusiastically off key.

Nothing to Do
All these difficulties come from the fact that he can't find enough to do. Most of all he expresses a need for a small battered brown box which he left at home. It contained a blue egg from a bird's nest, some round, white pebbles from the stream where he used to play, and especially "a tooth-marked leather strap which had been worn as a collar by his mongrel dog who had died, as he had lived, in absolute love and infinite devotion."

The bringing of the box to Paradise, the Littlest Angel's resulting perfection of behavior, and the all important necessity of finding the most beautiful gift in all of Paradise to give to the Christ Child on His Birthday complete the story of the Littlest Angel.

It is a story which has become one of the few contemporary classics written with the true spirit of Christmas. It reaffirms the basic truth that whatever is most precious to each person, is most worthy in the sight of God.

Car Dealers Support Safe Driving Day

Paul Loranger, director for Bay District Motor Car Dealers association, announces that the new car and new truck dealers in Torrance are organized 100 per cent in support of S-D Day.

Thursday, December 1, designated "S-D Day" by the President's Committee For Traffic Safety, is intended to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially if every motorist and pedestrian does his part.

The goal of the S-D Day program is to make their community completely free of traffic accidents for a 24-hour period on December 1. Torrance's automobile and truck dealers urge every one to follow three basic safety principles:

1. Always be courteous to every driver and pedestrian.
  2. Observe both the letter and the spirit of all traffic regulations.
  3. Give your full attention to driving and walking.
- "All of us have a share in traffic safety. Everyone's co-operation is needed to make S-D Day a success," Loranger said.
